

Moms in Armor

Confidentiality and Disclaimer Statements

Moms in Armor is a group of mothers who gather for mutual support, encouragement and prayer as we stand together for the sexual integrity of our children. We acknowledge that Satan has plans to ruin God's holy plan of sexuality and that God's grace and redemption is stronger than any enemy attack. As daughters of the King of Heaven, we choose to stand with Him and each other in encouragement and prayer as, together, we put on God's armor of protection (see Ephesians 6:10-20) and seek victory for our children.

By participating in this group, I agree to hold the stories shared in our times together with respect and in confidence. I understand others in the group may be at a different place in their journey as mothers, and I agree to treat each one with respect, honor, and trust. I understand that in sharing our journeys with each other, confidential information about family members may be shared. I agree to extend confidence, respect, honor and trust to all family members as well as the mothers in the group.

I also understand that Seven Acres Ministry Personnel are required by law to report the following:

- *If a client poses a serious physical danger to self or another person.
- *If a client shares that s/he or another person has physically or sexually abused or molested a child, or an incompetent or disabled person.
- *If a client shares that a child, or an incompetent or disabled person is suffering from neglect.
- *If a client makes a statement threatening a terrorist act.

I have read and understand these statements.
